ORGAN TRANSPLANTS

TRANSPLANTS

- A Different Perspective-

by Jeanette Hablullah

"Oh you human beings, reverence your Guardian Lord, Who created you from one soul and created from her mate..."

(Translation of part of Surah 4:1)

Revering the Creator means one must respect what that One has created. Human beings are considered to be the "crown of creation", the ultimate manifestation of Divine. It is therefore astonishing that humanity has come to a state in which humans are being treated as mechanical beings with disposable, replaceable parts. Transplantation or moving a whole or partial organ from one body to another to replace the recipient's damaged organ, is practiced worldwide but at a shocking level in the United States.

In 2003, 13,137 transplants were done in the U.S., while in England the recorded total was 1,736. These figures include transplants of hearts, kidneys, livers, lungs, pancreas, corneas, bone, bone marrow and intestines. By 2004, the U.S. figure had risen to 20,000 and the latest statistic of 2006 is 29,000. As these statistics are compiled, they also show that donations from deceased or cadaveric donors, which in 2003 was over 50%, has decreased to about 30% or less. This means donations from living or "brain dead" donors has increased. In 2006, 47% of kidneys used for transplanting came from "brain dead" donors. There are 92,000 people on the waiting lists, 3,700 more are added each month and approximately 18 people die each day while waiting.

By now you must have a sense of what is going on with this process and I must tell you that the research was making me extremely uncomfortable. In fact, I exited out of the information before I exhausted the articles checking only about half of what was available. Procurement and distribution of human body parts is an extensive and possibly lucrative business. Recipients must either have adequate personal funds or large amounts of available insurance; the poor don't qualify.

Sadly, some countries have made it legal to sell organs, particularly kidneys (usually $2000 - $4000). It is a big and ugly business!!!

Some individuals are over anxious to procure organs from those perhaps prematurely declared dead. In fact, there is disagreement in the medical community as to when death actually occurs. Moreover, there are

"Consciousness has the ability to generate desires that are not in the best interest of the human organism. It is ironic that the very skills we have to learn and heal ourselves, are the ones we use to create illusion of power and destroy ourselves."

(Rashid Bikha - Tibb)

In 1992, a study titled Comparative Study of Food Prepared Conventionally and in the Microwave Oven, at 3(2):43,¹ stated:

"Microwaved food contains both molecules and energies not present in food cooked in the way humans have been cooking food since the discovery of fire. Microwave energy from the sun and other stars is direct current based.

Artificially produced microwaves, including those in [microwave] ovens, are produced from alternating current and force a billion or more polarity reversals per second in every food molecule they hit. Production of unnatural molecules is inevitable."

The use of microwave ovens offers a "convenience" that takes away from the natural and nutritional value of the food we eat. Those of you who value nutrition and health over the "convenience" factor should consider throwing out the microwave and using good old-fashioned fire.
